

Rosalynd's Bio

Rosalynd is passionate about helping individuals aspire to greatness in their personal, professional and spiritual lives. Empowered with the spiritual gift of "leadership," her purpose is to help cultivate and transform the mindsets of individuals, teams and organizations, so they can lead at a higher level. She believes that everything rises and falls on leadership.

As a John Maxwell certified Coach, Teacher and Speaker, she can offer you workshops, seminars, keynote speaking, individual or group coaching, aiding in your growth through study and practical application of John's proven leadership methods. Working together, she will move you and/or your team or organization in the desired direction to reach your goals.

Rosalynd is compelled to help individuals aspire to greatness, by partnering with them to discover and pursue their purpose; create a compelling vision for their life and/or team, group, organization, or company; identify limiting and negative belief systems preventing them from walking in their greatness and reprogram their subconscious mind for success.

The majority of her professional career was spent at the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA). During her 14 year career at the AICPA, she was privileged to work in various capacities. From the National Administrator of Beta Alpha Psi to serving as chair/co-chair of various committees and task forces. In addition, she worked as an Adjunct Instructor at Hudson County Community College and Union County Community College for several years, creating and delivering professional development and computer training programs.

Her personal experiences, passion for changing lives, 25 years of professional and entrepreneurial experiences and 17 years of training, facilitation and coaching, have equipped her to help individuals and teams:

- * grow and lead on a higher level;
- * maximize their potential;
- * develop a plan for growth;
- * develop and implement SMART goals;
- * discover and pursue their purpose with passion; and
- * reprogram their subconscious mind for success.

Rosalynd attributes her success to her belief in God, a commitment to excellence and a relentless drive to become her highest and best self. Her passion for making a difference comes from knowing that she was created to serve.

To partner with Rosalynd, please contact her at (757) 525-3618 or coachrosalynd@gmail.com.